THE PREHISTORY OF STREET HOUSE IN NORTH-EAST ENGLAND

A TALK

by

Steve Sherlock

ON FRIDAY 27TH MAR AT 7.30PM

AT THE GLAPTHORN ROOM, FLETON HOUSE, OUNDLE, PE8 4JA

Street House, is remarkable for the wealth of prehistoric deposits that have been excavated in the last ten years. Starting with a Neolithic salt making site and associated settlement, excavations in the last two years have now revealed further Late Neolithic- Early Bronze Age ceremonial sites that have resonance in the East of England at the site known as "Seahenge".
